TURKISH NATIONAL ANTHEM

Fear not! For the crimson flag that proudly waves in these dawns, shall never fade,
Before the last fiery hearth that is ablaze within my nation burns out.
And that, is the star of my nation, and it will forever shine;
It is mine; and solely belongs to my nation.

Frown not, I beseech you, oh thou coy crescent,
But smile upon my heroic nation! Why the anger, why the rage?
The blood we shed for you will not be worthy otherwise;
For freedom is the absolute right of my God-worshipping nation.

I have been free since the beginning and forever will be so.
What madman shall put me in chains! I defy the very idea!
I'm like the roaring flood; powerful and independent,
I'll tear apart mountains, exceed the heavens and still gush out!

The lands of the West may be armored with walls of steel,
But I have borders guarded by the mighty chest of a believer.
Recognize your innate strength! And think: how can this fiery faith ever be killed,
By that battered, single-toothed monster you call "civilization"?

My friend! Leave not my homeland to the hands of villainous men!
Render your chest as armor! Stop this disgraceful rush!
For soon shall be come the day of promised freedom...
Who knows? Perhaps tomorrow? Perhaps even sooner!

See not the soil you tread on as mere earth,
But think about the thousands beneath you that lie without even shrouds.
You're the noble son of a martyr, take shame, hurt not your ancestor!
Unhand not, even when you're promised worlds, this paradise of a homeland.

What man would not die for this heavenly piece of land?
Martyrs would gush out if you just squeeze the soil! Martyrs!
May God take all my loved ones and possessions from me if he will,
But may he not deprive me of my one true homeland for the world.

O Lord, the sole wish of my heart is that,
No infidel's hand should touch the bosom of my temple.
These adhans, the shahadah of which is the base of the religion,
Shall sound loud over my eternal homeland.

Then my tombstone - if there is one - will a thousand times touch its forehead on earth (like in salah) in ecstasy,
O Lord, tears of blood flowing out of my every wound,
My corpse will gush out from the earth like a spirit,
And then, my head will perhaps rise and reach the heavens.

So flap and wave like the dawning sky, oh glorious crescent,
So that our every last drop of blood may finally be worthy!
Neither you nor my nation shall ever be extinguished!
For freedom is the absolute right of my ever-free flag;
For freedom is the absolute right of my God-worshipping nation!

ATATÜRK'S ADDRESS TO THE TURKISH YOUTH

Turkish Youth!

Your first duty is forever to preserve and to defend the Turkish Independence and the Turkish Republic.

This is the very foundation of your existence and your future. This foundation is your most precious treasure. In the future, too, there may be malevolent people at home and abroad who will wish to deprive you of this treasure. If some day you are compelled to defend your independence and your republic, you must not even hesitate to weigh the possibilities and circumstances of the situation before taking up your duty. These possibilities and circumstances may turn out to be extremely unfavourable. The enemies conspiring against your independence and your republic, may have behind them a victory unprecedented in the annals of the world. It may be that, by violence and trickery, all the fortresses of your beloved fatherland may be captured, all its shipyards occupied, all its armies dispersed and every part of the country invaded. And sadder and graver than all these circumstances, those who hold power within the country may be in error, misguided and may even be traitors. Furthermore, they may identify their personal interests with the political designs of the invaders. The country may be impoverished, ruined and exhausted.

Youth of Turkey's future,

Even in such circumstances it is your duty to save the Turkish Independence and Republic.

The strength you need is already imbedded in your noble blood.

FOREWORD FROM OUR SCHOOL'S HEADMASTER

I exactly believe that our school's English Club's first English magazine published with the help of our school's Information Technology Club is going to contribute a lot to all of its readers.

The most important thing at a school is not only the subjects given in the classrooms. The magazines, the newspapers and the social and cultural activities of the school are also as important as the subjects. We are trying to make our students learn new things and gain new skills and contribute to education of them in various ways by doing other activities as well as by giving our lessons in the best way possible.

We know that English is the most spoken language in the world so we appreciate our students' effort to improve themselves in English. I am aware of that the students who make an effort in this magazine, by writing texts, poems or by searching new information will be really in very important positions in their future life.

Our prophet Hz. Muhammed (pbuh) says in a hadith that "Actions depend on their intention." And our intention to publish this magazine is to make our students learn new things and is to make the readers aware of the importance of using English.

I thank to our school's teachers and students contributed to this magazine and I hope that the readers will enjoy reading it.

10 TIPS AND TRICKS TO LEARN ANY LANGUAGE

Generally, most of the people face some difficulties while learning a foreign language because of some reasons like grammatical, phonological differences, not finding suitable places for being exposed to target language etc. Actually learning a new language is not so difficult if the learners know the clues they need. Here are some clues which make learning a new language easy:

1. KNOW WHY YOU'RE DOING IT

If you don't have a good reason to learn a language, you are less likely to stay motivated over the long-run. No matter your reason, once you've decided on a language, it's crucial to commit.

2. FIND A PARTNER

While learning a language, you can find someone to join you on your language adventure. Having any kind of partner will push both of you to always try just a little bit harder and stay with it.

3. TALK TO YOURSELF

When you have no one else to speak to, there's nothing wrong with talking to yourself: This can keep new words and phrases fresh in your mind and build up your confidence for the next time you speak with someone.

4. KEEP IT RELEVANT

If you make conversation a goal from the beginning, you are less likely to get lost in textbooks. Talking to people will keep the learning process relevant to you.

5. HAVE FUN WITH IT

Using your new language in any way is a creative act. Think of some fun ways to practice your new language: make a radio play with a friend, draw a comic strip, write a poem, or simply talk to whomever you can.

6. ACT LIKE A CHILD

As kids, we are expected to make mistakes, but as adults mistakes become taboo. While learning a language, admitting that you don't know everything (and being okay with that) is the key to growth and freedom. Let go of your grown-up inhibitions!

7. LEAVE YOUR COMFORT ZONE

Willingness to make mistakes means being ready to put yourself in potentially embarrassing situations. This can be scary, but it's the only way to develop and improve. Talk to strangers in the language, ask for directions, order food, try to tell a joke. The more often you do this, the bigger your comfort zone becomes and the more at ease you can be in new situations.

8. LISTEN

You must learn to listen before you speak. Every language sounds strange the first time you hear it, but the more you expose yourself to it the more familiar it becomes, and make easier it is to speak it properly.

9. WATCH PEOPLE TALK

Different languages make different demands on your tongue, lips and throat. Pronunciation is just as much physical as it is mental. If you can't watch and imitate a native-speaker in person, watching foreign-language films and TV is a good substitute.

10. DIVE IN

No matter which learning tools you use, it's crucial to practice your new language every single day: the best possible outcome of speaking a language is for people to speak back to you. And don't worry, you won't annoy people by speaking their language poorly.

THE IMPORTANCE OF LEARNING ENGLISH

All of the people in the world knows that learning English is important and they decide to study it as a second language. Many countries include English as a second language in their school syllabus and children start learning English at a young age. However, in spite of the facts mentioned above it still comes a second and people and mostly the teenager students ask "Why should I learn English?" Now, I will try to give some best answers to this question. We should learn English because:

*English is the most commonly spoken language in the world. One out of five people can speak or at least understand English!

*English is the language of science, computers, diplomacy, and tourism. And thus English will open up more opportunities for you.

*English is also the language of the Internet. Many websites are written in English - you will be able to understand them and to take part in forums and discussions.

*Since English is spoken in so many different countries there are thousands of schools around the world that offer programs in English. If you speak English, there're lots of opportunities for you to find an appropriate school and course to suit your academic needs.

*English will make you more desirable to employers.

*English is not only useful - it gives you a lot of satisfaction. Making progress feels great. You will enjoy learning English, if you remember that every hour you spend gets you closer to perfection.

*English is based on a simple alphabet and it is fairly quick and easy to learn compared to other languages.

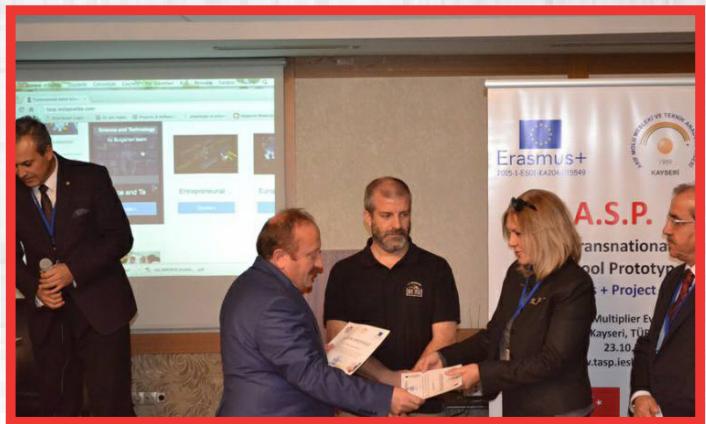

*Because it is fun! By learning English, you will also learn about other cultures. Few experiences will make you grow as a person more than learning the values, habits and way of life in a culture that is different from yours.

If there are so many people who can learn English why not you? You only need to be aware of the importance of learning English and believe yourself. Then I am sure that you will succeed.

ERASMUS PROJECTS AT ARİF MOLU

Our school has conducted two Erasmus projects named "The Transnational Adult Prototype" and "Digital and Media Literacy for Sustainable Life-long Learning".

Our second project "Digi4Life" includes 6 countries; Turkey, Bulgaria, Romania, France, Italy and Latvia. This Project will take two years. The first meeting was held in our school last term.

During the visit of our partners, we made them take a short trip in Kayseri and then to visit Cappadocia Region.

We think these kinds of projects will help our students to improve themselves. They also get a chance for learning about new cultures and opening their minds about their future life.

SHE WILL INDIVIDUALISE ANTIBIOTICS AGAINST RESISTANCE

Dr. Gözde Durmuş is a postdoctoral research fellow at Stanford University; working with Prof. Ronald W. Davis and Prof. Lars Steinmetz at the Stanford Genome Technology Center. In 2015, she has been recognized among the "Top 35 Innovators Under 35" (TR35), as a pioneer in biotechnology and medicine, by MIT Technology Review. Dr. Durmuş develops and applies translational micro/nano technologies to study cellular heterogeneity and complex biological systems for single cell analysis and precision medicine. Her research philosophy is to apply these platforms to fundamentally understand and address the mechanisms of disease, with a specific emphasis on cancer. Her passion is to bridge the gap between biology, engineering and medicine; to develop simple, inexpensive, easy-to-use, yet, broadly applicable platforms that will change the way in which medicine is practiced as well as how patients are monitored, diagnosed and treated for precision medicine.

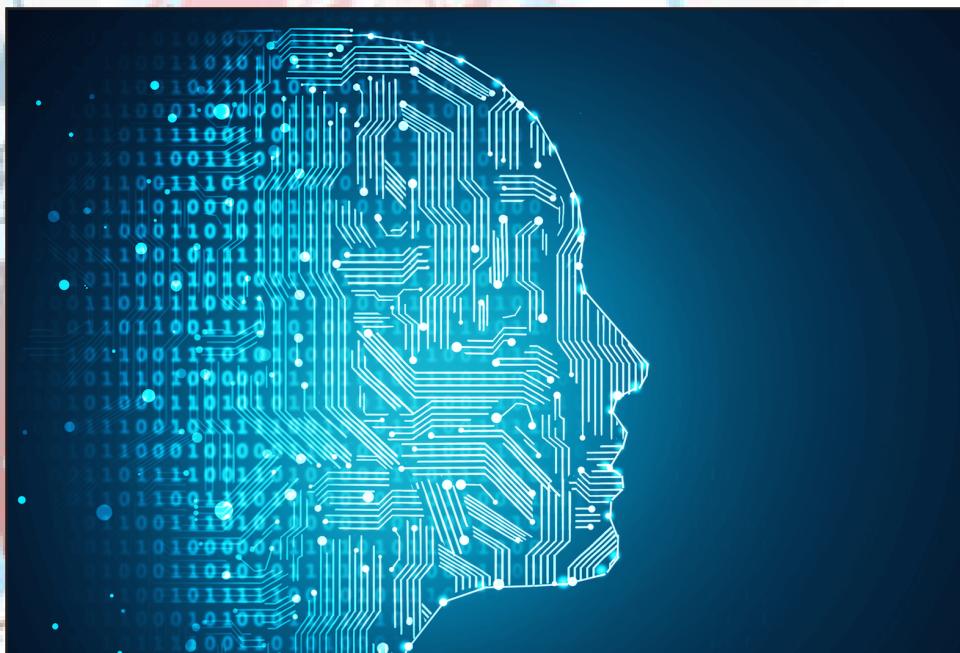

MERT AKYÜREKLİ WHO IS THE 12TH GRADE STUDENT AT CEVRE COLLEGE OF İSTANBUL, TOOK THE FIRST PLACE IN THE WORLD IN THE "CASTIC INTERNATIONAL PROJECT COMPETITION" HELD IN CHINA.

The CASTIC-International Project Competition is held every year in a different city. This year, it took place in Hangzhou, China from August 14th to 23rd in which 500 finalists competed. Mert Akyürekli was the first of 500 finalists with his project "Interaction of DNA-Ferrofluid by Using Magneto-optical Methods".

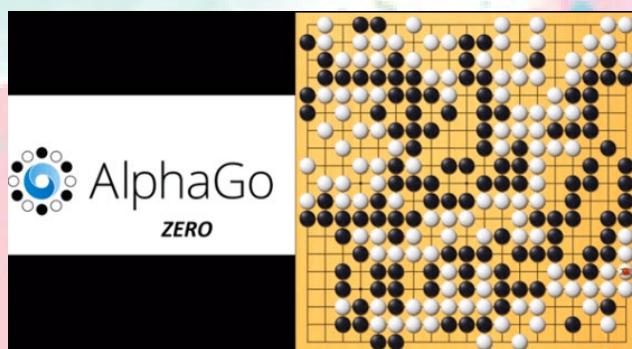

The study of Mert Akyürekli as the only project participating in Turkey and examining the DNA-ferro liquid interaction has earned the highest score of both the jury and the people, thus a source of pride for our country.

ARTIFICIAL INTELLIGENCE

The year 2017 was a seminal year for the field of Artificial Intelligence (AI). The buildup of research breakthroughs, academic whispers, and the occasional policy conversation burst into public consciousness. Suddenly, everyone everywhere was talking about AI, what it means, and how it will affect human societies and economies. Jobs, warfare, healthcare, film-making, even art—no area of human enterprise seemed to be immune from discussions of the coming machine onslaught. Overall, there were very important outcomes for the field of AI in 2017.

Technologically, first important breakthrough in 2017 was the development of Google Deep Mind's AlphaGo Zero. AlphaGo Zero built on the earlier astonishing success of the AlphaGo program, which mastered the game of Go—an East Asian game widely believed to be significantly more complex than chess. AlphaGo was taught how to play the game through a database of hundreds of thousands of videos of humans playing Go.

Another important outcome is Sophia, Hanson Robotics' latest and most advanced robot to date and a cultural icon. She has become a media darling, appearing on major media outlets around the world, igniting the interest of people regardless of age, gender, and culture, even gracing the cover of one of the top fashion magazines. Her press coverage has a potential reach of over ten billion readers in 2017. Sophia is an evolving genius machine. Her incredible human likeness, expressiveness, and remarkable story as an awakening robot over time makes her a fascinating front-page technology story.

AN INTERVIEW

Our student Ayşenur Özbay (11th grade ICT department) made an important interview with Ahmet T. Hasgül founder of ELA Courses about his way of studying English at university in spite of all the difficulties.

INTERVIEWER: Could you introduce yourself shortly?

A.T.HASGÜL: I'm Ahmet T.HASGÜL, the founder of ELA(English Language Activities) Study Abroad&Language Courses. I live in Kayseri, I'm 32.

I: Could you tell us about your educational life?

A.T.HASGÜL: I graduated from Ahmet Erdem Anatolian Trade High School in 2005. My department was Computer Programming. I started to study at Boğaziçi University in 2005. My department at the university was Management Information Systems.

I: How did you decide to take education in a foreign language?

A.T.HASGÜL: Some of my courses at university are given in English so I had to learn

English. I took classes in the foreign language department at the university. In summer vacation of my freshman year, I went to the USA with the WAT(work&travel)programme. That was also a part of my language learning.

I: Do you think is there any disadvantage of studying at a vocational and technical high school for foreign language education?

A.T.HASGÜL: I think there are many disadvantages in learning a foreign language. One of the most important disadvantages is that students are unaware of the importance of learning a foreign language. I can say many more disadvantages too but I want to say that being successful in learning a new language is up to you. Because I also graduated from the Anatolian Trade High School but I had the chance to study at one of the most prestigious universities of Turkey.(Boğaziçi University) The last thing that I want to say is that: 'JUST FEEL IT, then you will definitely do it.'

I: What are your advices for learning English to the students who are studying at vocational and technical high schools?

A.T.HASGÜL: My advices for the Vocational Technical High School Students are:

- Listen in English.
- Try to understand in English whatever you hear.
- Spend time to read in English.
- Try to speak and make practice.
- Use online applications for example lyrics training .com,voscreen.com,ixl.com etc.
- Think yourself in your mind while you are speaking English fluently.

We are grateful for the information you give. We hope that our students follow your lead and their dreams.

WHY ENGLISH IS HARD TO LEARN

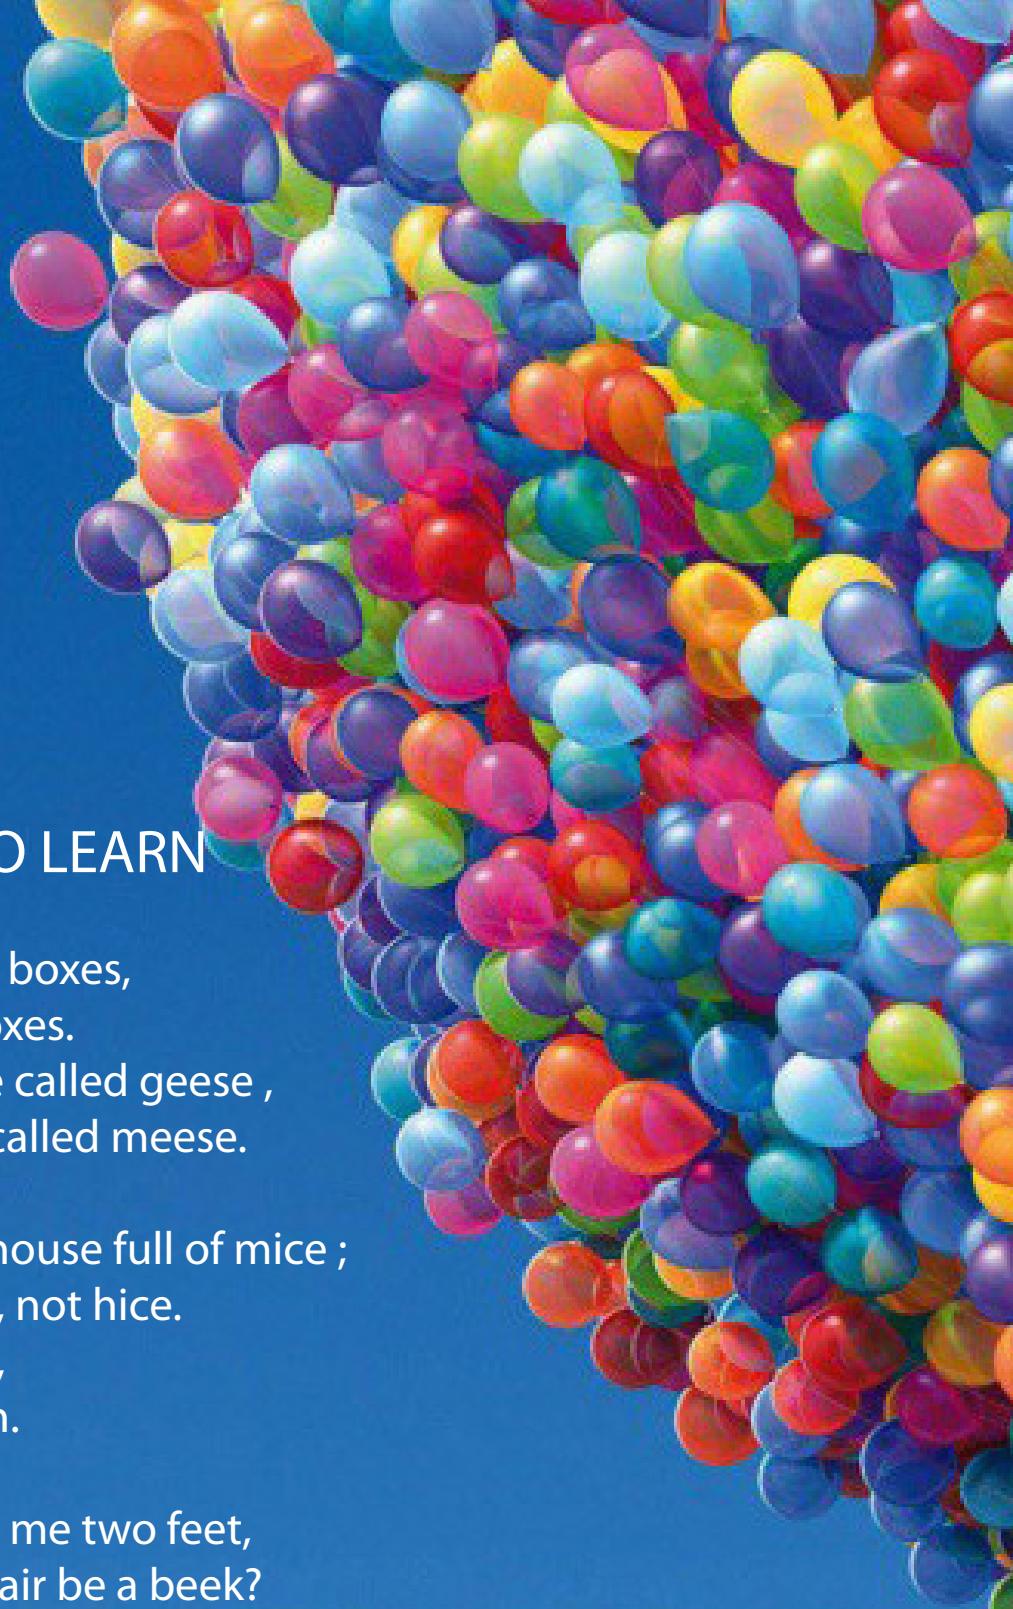

We'll begin with box; the plural is boxes,
But the plural of ox is oxen, not oxes.
One fowl is a goose , and two are called geese ,
Yet the plural of moose is never called meese.

You may find a lone mouse or a house full of mice ;
But the plural of house is houses, not hice.
The plural of man is always men ,
But the plural of pan is never pen.

If I speak of a foot ,and you show me two feet,
And I give you a book ,would a pair be a beek?
If one is a tooth and a whole set are teeth,
Why shouldn't two booths be called beeth?

If the singular's this and the plural is these ,
Should the plural of kiss be ever called keese?

We speak of a brother and also of brethren,
But though we say mother ,we never say methren.
Then the masculine pronouns are he, his and him;
But imagine the feminine... she, shis and shim!
